

CENTRE & CIRCUMFERENCE

B. treats letters as philosophical symbols, which allow comprehensive interpretational syntheses and preciseness of reference in non-verbal symbolisation, as used by mathematicians & symbolic logicians.

Beginning + end are nowhere and everywhere. A beach shows it. Neither Beginning nor End. The End is swallowed by the Beginning. Spring begins; Winter ends, in a cycle. Pins suspended in line from a magnet are held by a power invisible. There is a unity beyond experience. This unity is 'God'.

The centre flies like one's shadow if one pursues it, and runs after one if one runs away from it. The Sun shines even when earth-men think it eclipsed. Circumference deceives; look at centre. Circumference runs; centre stands still.
